

The airwaves across America should be open to all listeners and those listeners should have a choice, be it traditional radio or satellite. To allow the NAB to regulate satellite radio's traffic and weather offerings is wrong. It is anti-free market, which is what this country was built on. The people want something different than traditional radio. We want XM and we want traffic and weather on XM.